Rep. Elijah Cummings / Mercy Medical Center To Bring Community the Facts about Cancer Screening At May 22 Public Forum

BALTIMORE (May 8, 2010) – On May 22, 2010, Congressman Elijah Cummings [MD-07] will moderate an expert medical panel on cancer screening and testing procedures at Mercy Medical Center. The discussion, free and open to the public, will take place from 10 until 11:30 a.m. in the lobby of Weinberg Center, 227 St. Paul Place, Baltimore.

“I commend Mercy Medical Center for its continuing efforts to bring this critical health information to our community,” Congressman Cummings declared today. “Our discussion on May 22 will better educate everyone present about the importance of mammography, radiation levels in screening tests, prostate health and the latest in prostate cancer and breast cancer surgery, as well as other issues regarding cervical, ovarian, uterine and other gynecologic cancers. We will all benefit from the insights of Mercy’s world-class medical experts, including breast cancer surgeons Dr. Dalliah Black and Dr. Neil B. Friedman, radiologist Dr. Jean Warner, gynecologic oncologist Dr. Hyung S. Ryu and urologist Dr. Stanley Silber.”

Mercy Medical Center will also offer, by advance registration and on a time available basis, reduced cost ($20) mammograms and PSA/digital exams. To register, the public should contact Mercy Medical Center at (410) 332-9857 or on the Internet at <http://www.MDMercy.com>. Free parking at Mercy’s Saratoga Street garage will be provided.
